

We Can Help Keep the Lines of Communication Open Between
Youth and Their Families

716.661.9446

Mediation services are available to youth and families through the Family and Community Development Services area. A trained mediator can increase communication between youth and families and can help develop plans to continue open communication in the home.